STEVENS POINT, WIS., JULY 18, 1917.

NO. 2

TROOPERS MOBILIZE
AT LOCAL ARMORY*Stevens Point Cavalry Troop I Now in Federal Service—Drill Four Hours Daily

A dispatch from Madison is to the effect that tentage and other equipment is pouring into Camp Douglas and that another week may find the major portion of Wisconsin's 15,000 national guardsmen gathered at the state mobilization camp. It is possible, it is said, that orders to proceed to camp will be received by local commanders by July 20. It is also said that the first organization to be ordered to Camp Douglas will be the first cavalry, of which Troop I of Stevens Point is a part.

Stevens Point Cavalry Troop I was mobilized in this city Sunday, as were the national guard units in various other states, according to the proclamation issued by Pres. Wilson calling them into the federal service. Practically all of the members of the local troop reported during the day. Three of the troopers have been granted furloughs and are in training at Fort Sheridan and a total of six men have failed to report, all of whom are out of the city.

Guard mounts were established at the front and rear of the armory Sunday morning, this being the first active work assigned the men upon mobilization. The men work in three shifts throughout the day. Each shift continues for six hours, two hours on duty and four hours off. Each complete guard consists of thirteen men, including one corporal for each relief and one sergeant for the entire guard.

The actual work of the troop consists of four hours of drill daily. On Monday and Tuesday the men drilled at the fair grounds in the morning and on the public square in the evening, but today the hours have been changed and hereafter an afternoon drill will be conducted in place of the evening training.

A school in signaling and a non-commissioned officers' school is to be created in the near future, which will in part take the place of drill work.

Two tents have been raised on the vacant lot directly east of the armory, the first being the headquarters tent and the second first sergeants' tent, where the clerical work is carried out. Twenty Springfield rifles were secured yesterday from the Normal and a squad of men under First Lieutenant Moen brought them to the armory. They will be used in familiarizing the men with the use of guns while on guard duty, but will not be used in the drill work.

Division was furnished the troopers yesterday afternoon from the routine drill work when the entire company with the exception of those on guard duty, under First Lieutenant Moen and Second Lieutenant Park, took a two hour hike to Rocky Run, west of the city. Daily hikes will be continued as long as the troop remains in this city, and the length of the trips taken will be gradually increased as the men become accustomed to the grind.

The troop now numbers 100 and 3 commissioned officers and but five more privates are needed to raise it to full war strength of 105 men.

Two men are assigned fatigue duty daily, their work being that of keeping in the armory and quarters clean. Extra fatigue duty is assigned men for misdeemeanors, such as being late at roll call or drill.

The daily routine of the troop includes the roll call at 8:15 a. m., guard mount at 8:30; drill from 9:15 to 11:15; recall at 11:15; drill from 2:30 to 4:30 p. m. and retreat at 5 p. m.

No information has as yet been received as to where the troop will be stationed for training, although Governor E. L. Phillips is making an effort to retain the Wisconsin guard at Camp Douglas, to which place they will likely be sent first. The recently mobilized guard in the United States will undergo at least two months of actual training in this country before they will be sent to France, according to a Washington announcement Tuesday.

DEATH OF BOY

John Jelinaki, aged three years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jelinaki, 923 Franklin street, died at the family home this morning. The little boy suffered with diphtheria about a year ago and since that time had been afflicted with throat trouble. The funeral will be held from St. Peter's Catholic church tomorrow morning, Rev. S. A. Elbert officiating. The body will be buried in St. Peter's cemetery.

BUILD NEW WAREHOUSE

Okay Brothers of Stevens Point have shipped three carloads of lumber to Codrington for the erection of a new potato warehouse. The building will be 30x50 feet in size, with concrete foundation and floors. Another building will be erected to be used as a haled hay warehouse. Okay Brothers bought potatoes, hay and livestock at Codrington last year. With the new buildings they will be able to increase their business there. Crop conditions in the Buena Vista drainage district are said to be the best on record and large yields of potatoes and hay are predicted. T. M. Otrich, manager of the Bradley interests, has a fine field of potatoes.

SUMMER SCHOOL PLAY

"Lost—a Chaperon" is the name of a play to be given by summer school students in the Normal auditorium Friday evening of this week, beginning at 8:15 o'clock. The play is a light one and has been given with great success in many places. It was the class play of the Normal seniors in 1914, when it scored a genuine hit. Prof. E. T. Smith is in charge of the production. The proceeds will go to make up a Dramatic club deficit and admission prices of 15 and 25 cents will be charged.

WILL GRADUATE THIRTY

Local Normal to Close Next Week—
Enrollment Reaches Same Number as Last Year

The six week summer session of the State Normal school in this city will close on Friday of next week. Final examinations will be held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and final standings given out Friday. An unusual circumstance has been established in this year's enrollment in that the total number of students enrolled for the session equal exactly the number enrolled for the 1916 session. For both years the highest enrollment figure has been 323.

Following are names of the students who will complete their work at the Normal next week, with their home addresses:

High School Teachers' Course—
George W. Moxon, Stevens Point; Margarette Viola Hartl, Auburndale; Violet A. Hill, Cumberland; Burton L. Ambrose, Stevens Point; Henry F. Schadewald, Stevens Point; Mildred Potter, Stanley.

STOREKEEPERS WILL CLOSE

The storekeepers and other business men of Junction City have decided to close their places of business all day Sunday; they will also close at 6:30 o'clock Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings. On Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings they will keep open until 9 o'clock. Heretofore it has been the custom to keep open every evening and Sunday, but the adoption of the new schedule will undoubtedly prove satisfactory after it is in force for a time. The new rule becomes effective Sunday, July 22, w-2

PRESS MEET AT MARSHFIELD

Central Wisconsin Association to Hold Gathering There on Friday of Next Week, July 27th.

The proposed summer outing of the Central Wisconsin Press Association, which was to have been held at Marshfield next Friday, is postponed until Friday, July 27th, when most of the afternoon and evening will be devoted to the reading of papers of interest to the craft by association members and talks by prominent citizens of Marshfield.

There is a bare possibility that the gathering may be called off indefinitely because the Marshfield Board of Commerce has thus far failed to exert itself along the expected entertainment lines, but as the people of that city have long had the reputation of "doing things" in civic affairs, they will not fail in this instance.

Secretary Bert E. Walters of Mosinee has outlined a program, of which the following is a copy:

WILL PLAY FOOTBALL

Local State Normal to Participate in Athletics in Spite of War Situation

The Stevens Point Normal will be represented by a football team this fall in spite of the condition of war, which is taking many of the young men of the schools of the country into the service of the government. At a meeting of the physical directors of Wisconsin Normal schools held at Madison this spring, it was voted to continue inter-Normal and other athletic contests during the coming school year.

Coach George D. Corniel is already making plans for this year's eleven, and although several of last year's players have graduated, some good men are expected to take their places. Leslie Shalberg of Moline, Ill., quarterback in 1915 and fullback and captain in 1916, will enter the school of engineering of the University of Illinois this fall. Shalberg is also a valuable basketball man, having played forward and guard the two years here.

The other regulars who will not return are Sidney Eagleburger, who is a member of the Second Regiment band of Marshfield, James Murphy, who will enter the University of Wisconsin, Joseph Pope, who was graduated and will teach, and Walter Stewart who is in the navy and at present is aboard the U. S. S. North Carolina. The plans of Captain-elect Hougum of Grand Rapids and Reynolds of Marshfield are as yet uncertain.

The nucleus around which Coach Corniel will build the 1917 team will be composed of Charles Burns of this city, Smith of Grand Rapids, Elmer Ellis of Moline, Ill., and Harry Hertz of Weyauwega. It is a practical certainty that every Normal school in the state will be represented by a football team this fall. Many of the eastern colleges and universities have abandoned athletics until the expiration of the war, but in these cases many of the players are older men who have either earlier enlisted or are subject to the draft.

The continuance of Normal school athletics does not show that the men in these schools are in any way less loyal than in other schools, as a considerable number of last year's athletes either have enlisted or have attempted to. Of the four members of last year's relay team which ran in the Pennsylvania Relay races in Philadelphia in April, each has done or is doing his mite to help the government. Eagleburger is a member of a regimental band, Klug of Merrill is employed at the Du Pont Powder Co.'s plant at Washburn making ammunition for the Russian government, Chalk of Rock Island, Ill., is in the officers' training camp at Fort Sheridan, and Charles Burns of this city was twice rejected for the army because of his eyesight.

The first football game this fall in which the local Normal team will participate will be played with the Chippewa Falls High school eleven at Chippewa Falls on October 6.

OILING COUNTRY ROADS

T. E. Cauley, county highway commissioner, is in the midst of his annual road oiling work. Mr. Cauley purchased 40,000 gallons of Tarvia "B" and this is now being applied. The Plover road, from the city limits to the Moore barn, is now being treated and a section of the Plover-Grand Rapids road has already been oiled. Other roads to be oiled include the Plover Hills road, part of the Jordan road and the Wausau road. The rainy weather has interfered somewhat with the oiling.

CORN SPRINGS UP

Although the lateness of the season had a deterrent effect upon the growth of corn, the warm weather of the last couple of weeks has gone a long way toward overcoming this handicap. M. W. Rice, deputy clerk of court, has had occasion to take particular note of this fact in his yard at 1603 Main street. Mr. Rice has some sweet corn of the golden bantam variety and on July 4 it was only about knee high. On the 14th, however, it had grown remarkably and tassels had already formed on the stalks.

OLDEST SOO ENGINEER

Low Choate Has Been in Service Forty Years—Retires Next Spring and May Come to This City

Low Choate, passenger engineer on the Soo line, "pulling" trains No. 5 and 6 between Fond du Lac and Eau Claire, spent last Sunday in this city and was accompanied here by two children of his son, Frank, whose home is at Marinette. In point of continuous service, Mr. Choate is the oldest engineer on the Soo, he starting work on the old Wisconsin Central in this city Dec. 25th, 1877. Forty years ago next Christmas, last April, when he had the privilege of retiring on a pension, but as he has been so effectively paid he has decided to remain in service until next spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Choate were former residents of Stevens Point and owned property here until a few years ago. They have always maintained a kindly interest in our city and its people and it is among the probabilities that they may return here from Fond du Lac next year.

TWO NEW SUPERVISORS

Miss Marion Bannach and Miss Cora Doxrud to Serve County Schools Next Year

Miss Marion Bannach of Stockton township and Miss Cora Doxrud of the village of Nelsonville were on Tuesday elected supervising teachers for Portage county for the ensuing year. They were chosen by the committee on common schools from a list submitted by County Superintendent Gordon and they will succeed the Misses Alice Gordon and Elizabeth McGorty.

Miss McGorty, who had held the position one year, was married at Minneapolis last Saturday. Miss Gordon was supervising teacher two years and declined to be considered for reelection. A petition was circulated among teachers of the county asking her to remain, but despite this and other pressure exerted she refused to have her name placed in nomination, much to the regret of those who have observed the results of her work.

Miss Bannach, the newly elected supervisor, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Bannach of Stockton and sister of Miss Frances C. Bannach, who recently retired as superintendent of Portage county's schools. She is a graduate of the Stevens Point Normal and has had four years of teaching experience, two in the rural schools of this county and two as supervisor of domestic science in the Crawford county training school at Gay's Mills, to which place she had intended to return next fall. Miss Doxrud is also a local Normal graduate and has successfully taught during the past four years. For two years she was a teacher in the Amherst Junction school and for a similar period held the principalship of the state graded school at Nelsonville. Miss Doxrud had resigned her Nelsonville position and had been engaged for next year for a responsible post in North Dakota. She is a daughter of C. O. Doxrud of Nelsonville.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Carl Halbeck, Sigel, Anna Saeger, Grant; Wm. J. Scott, Plover, Effie Whitman, Stevens Point; John Sankel, Carson, Catherine Hintz, Carson; Joseph Gilmeister, New Hope, Helen Grziwac, Stockton.

ANNUAL ICE CREAM SOCIAL

The annual ice cream social of St. Joseph's congregation will be held on the parish lawn at the corner of Center and Lincoln avenues, Tuesday afternoon and evening, July 24. Ice cream and cake (home made) will be served. Weber's band will give a concert in the evening and a good time is assured to all. Everybody is invited.

THURSDAY'S BAND CONCERT

The following interesting program of seven numbers will be rendered at the open air band concert to be given Thursday evening of this week at court house park:

March, Yankee Spirit, Weber; Overture, Extremepore, Hays; Waltzes, Songs of Scotland, Tobani; Cornet Solo, Sing Me The Rosary, (Sidney Eagleburger), Klickmann; Selection, Adela, Briquet; March, Co-Ed, Zamenick; Finale, Star Spangled Banner, Key.

COWEN GETS BEAR MEAT

Harold Bronson and Cephas Jacobowski, who spent Sunday on a fishing trip at Gordon, relate a real "bear story" of northern Wisconsin, as told them by Fred Cowen, agent at Gordon and former relief dispatcher in the local Soo line offices. On Saturday morning of last week the conductor on Soo line passenger train No. 18 notified Agent Cowen that the train of which he was in charge struck and stunned a large bear. Mr. Cowen then ordered the agent to investigate the matter and report to him. Proof that the bear was a real one was furnished when Cowen received two roasts of Mr. Bruin from Hillecrest's agent, who is reported to have found the animal near the Soo right of way at the place described by the conductor.

JACOB VICKER DIES

Resident of Linwood for Forty Years
Passes Away Suddenly Tuesday Evening

Jacob Vicker, aged 90 years, died at the home of his son, Frank Vicker, in the town of Linwood at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday evening. Although he had been suffering with asthma for some time, he had not been confined to his bed prior to the end and his death was unexpected.

The deceased was born in German Poland and came to this country when a young man. For the last forty years he had been a resident of the town of Linwood, where he owned a farm. For a number of years he had been retired.

He is survived by three sons, George V. of Stevens Point, Vernon of this city and Frank Vicker of Linwood. One sister, Mrs. A. W. Wadleigh, of this city, also survives.

The funeral will be held from the Mill Creek church on Friday morning, Rev. S. A. Elbert of this city officiating. Burial will take place in the parish cemetery.

George Vicker of Superior will attend the funeral.

BOLT STRIKES HOUSE

During the storm Monday afternoon, lightning struck the house owned by A. E. Redfield and occupied by Frank Smith on S. Church street near the city limits. A bolt struck the porch and entered the house, knocking the plaster from the walls in several of the rooms. Holes were also torn in the floors in the bedrooms and the telephone wrecked. No persons were injured. The damage is estimated at $50, which is covered by insurance.

ROSETH IS IN CHARGE

Simon Roseth, bookkeeper at the Citizens National bank, is in charge of the compilation of reports for the recent Red Cross campaign for funds and will also attend to the collection of pledges, a task which will be spread over a period of about ten months. Some of the reports have not yet been handed in and as a result all work has been delayed. No definite information is obtainable as to the amount of money collected or pledged, but a report will be made as soon as possible.

CAVALRY TROOP TO LEAVE CITY MONDAY

Local National Guard Unit Ordered to Camp Douglas—Will Go in Special Train

The following telegram was received at 2:54 o'clock this afternoon by Captain C. W. Swan of Stevens Point Cavalry Troop I from Major John G. Salzman, adjutant general, of Madison:

"Orders will issue from headquarters Central department Chicago arranging camp for First Wisconsin Cavalry at the State Military Reservation beginning Monday, July 23. You will receive all information relative to train service from the chief quartermaster at Camp Douglas."

A special train will be provided to carry the local troop to Camp Douglas, which will leave this city some time Monday. Until that time regular drill as has been the order since the mobilization of the troop last Sunday, will be continued.

BARTENDER TAKES FUNDS

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Chris Sorenson, a bartender in the employ of Joseph Hardina of Junction City until his sudden disappearance after the close of business at midnight Saturday. Sorenson is charged with appropriating approximately $185 of Mr. Hardina's funds, which were contained in a cash register. Mr. Hardina had been absent from home and Sorenson took advantage of this in planning the theft. He is charged with embezzlement, but has not yet been arrested. It is reported he came to Stevens Point after the robbery.

MISS ELIZA ELLIS

Former Resident of City Dies at Monroe Monday Following
Paralytic Stroke

Miss Eliza Ellis, daughter of the late General A. G. Ellis of this city, died at Monroe, Wis., at nine o'clock Monday morning. Death was caused by a paralytic stroke, with which she was afflicted Saturday. During the three days of her illness she remained unconscious.

The deceased was born in this city on February 27, 1862. She is survived by five sisters as follows: Mrs. P. H. Hogle of Wausau, Miss May Ellis of Milwaukee, Mrs. G. B. Fletcher of Puyallup, Wash., Mrs. J. H. Radtke of Milwaukee and Mrs. L. B. Wadleigh of this city.

The body was brought to this city this morning accompanied by Mrs. P. H. Hogle and Miss May Ellis, who were with the deceased at the time of her death, and taken to the home of Mrs. Wadleigh on Normal avenue. The funeral will be held from the Church of the Intercession at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, Rev. E. Croft Gear officiating. Burial will take place in Forest cemetery.

GREAT INCREASE IN ACREAGE OF COUNTY

Gain of 15 Per Cent Over 1916 Is Estimate Made by County Clerk
From Reports Filed

With an increase of practically 15% over last year, based on reports submitted to County Clerk A. E. Bourn, Portage county's 1917 crop acreage breaks all records.

With the exception of the city of Stevens Point, the village of Amherst and the town of Linwood, the figures are complete. The acreage under cultivation, as shown by these returns, is 166,765, to which must be added the acreage of Stevens Point, Amherst village and Nelsonville. The county clerk estimates the grand total will be approximately 170,000 acres. The total acreage in 1916 was 148,581.

The potato acreage of the county shows a decrease of 465 compared to 1916, a fact that is accounted for by the high price and scarcity of seed stock. Hay, including timothy, clover and alfalfa, with a combined acreage of 61,409, ranks first in the county; rye comes second, oats third, potatoes fourth and corn fifth. Last year but one acre was planted to field peas in the county, but this year, encouraged by the high prices paid for this staple, farmers have 197 acres in peas.

If the estimated increase of 15% is sustained, the acreage for the county this year is 30% more than forecasted early in the spring. At that time a general survey was made and it was estimated that there would be a decrease of fully 15%, owing to the high cost and shortage of seed and labor.

With a continuance of favorable weather the yield per acre will be much greater than last year, when the long period of drought played havoc with crops, especially on the light, sandy soil. All in all it seems that the county is in for a record breaking production as well as a record breaking acreage.

The following figures show a comparison between the complete figures for the county in 1916 and the incomplete figures for 1917. They show that even without Stevens Point, Amherst village and Linwood, the 1917 acreage is greatly increased over last year.

Spring wheat	184	372
Winter wheat	82	82
Corn	19,857	21,386
Oats	33,812	31,245
Barley	589	819
Rye	23,569	31,891
Peas (canning)	1	1
Peas (dried)	1	197
Buckwheat	460	1,010
Potatoes	28,514	28,049
Dried beans	84	804
Timothy, clover and alfalfa	41,511	51,409

Acres cultivated ..... 148,581 166,765

DIES FROM CANCER

She made her home in this city for one year, prior to two years ago, with another son, Arnold Flentie, who has since moved to Appleton. E. H. Flentie of this city attended the funeral, which was held on Monday afternoon of this week. Besides the two sons, the deceased is survived by three daughters, two sisters and one half-brother.

SHORTER AND LIGHTER

Smaller Men Can Now Be Taken Into Cavalry Troop, According to Official Instructions

Enlistment in Stevens Point Cavalry Troop I is now open to men who previously have been barred because of height and weight, according to instructions received today by Capt. C. W. Swan from the war department, through the adjutant general.

Heretofore applicants for enlistment in the troop have been turned down if less than 64 inches tall or less than 120 pounds in weight. The new ruling makes 61 inches the minimum height and 110 pounds the minimum weight. As a result quite a number of men who were rejected will now be eligible for enlistment. They must, however, have the other qualifications prescribed in the rules. The strength of the troop is now 104, including the three commissioned officers. A troop at war strength numbers 108, officers included, but enlistments will be made beyond that figure if possible in order to make up for any decrease that might result from the federal inspection, which is said to be very strict.

AGED MAN INJURED

George Pascavis, aged resident of the town of Janwood, suffered a broken shoulder and painful bruises at about 5 o'clock last Thursday afternoon, when he was struck and knocked down by a runaway team at the corner of Clark and St. Second streets, this city. The runaway team belonged to Ferdinand Kryszewski of the town of Carson, and started out suddenly from the public square, where it had been left standing after a new hay rake had been purchased and loaded onto the hay rack on the wagon. As the team approached Clark street on its dash down Second, it attempted to make the turn to the west. In doing so, besides running down Mr. Pascavis, it threw the wagon against an automobile standing at the curb, bending the radiator. The hay rake toppled off the wagon and the tongue crashed through a large light of glass in Skalski Co's store. The team was caught soon afterward, the fact that one of the wheels of the wagon snapped off at the corner, being a factor in stopping their progress. A doctor immediately attended Mr. Pascavis, who was later removed to the hospital. Owing to his age, eighty years, his recovery will be slow.

FARMING

BETTER FARMING-BETTER BUSINESS-BETTER LIVING

OVER PRODUCTION A MITH

Is there any danger of overproduction? The New York State Food Supply commission gives this answer to this question:

"Some farmers have feared overproduction. This fear might be justified were it not for the conditions in Europe. All of Europe is approaching famine conditions, and there is no chance that farmers of Europe can give the care necessary for the production of the best crops. Large quantities of food are being lost at sea. The world's reserve of food is probably the lowest in history. The grain on farms in the United States on Mar. 1 was 700,000,000 bushels below last year. The quantity in elevators is much short of last year. The wheat crop that has just been harvested in New Zealand, Australia and Argentina is estimated at only 70 per cent of last year's crop. The winter wheat of the United States is in poor condition.

"If as low yields of grains should occur this year as occurred in 1901 conditions would be very serious. If we get as good crops as in 1912, which were the best in twenty years, there would be no chance of low prices for grains."

WISCONSIN'S COWS ENLIST

Judging from the reports of Wisconsin cow testers the dairymen of the state are enlisting their cows in the army of the commissary. One would not think the gentle and mild mannered cow an important factor in war, yet when success may depend on available food, who can say how important it may be to convert roughage into palatable and nutritious food to strengthen and support the men behind the gun? Every increase in the production of food is a potential increase in the chances for victory.

The cow testing association is one of the most important factors which enter into the increased production of milk, for it secures better feed and care for the cows, eliminates the "slackers" from the herds, gives the "patriots" in the herd a better chance, raises up the daughter of the "patriots" to take the places left by the "deserters" and the "slackers," gives "General Bull" a chance to prove his right to head the herd, and on the part of the owner arouses enthusiasm and interest in the business and stimulates co-operative effort.

Reports from 60 testers on the production of the 25,078 cows they tested last month, show that 2,413 of this number produced over 40 pounds of fat during that time. The average of the high cows, one from each association, was 68 pounds of fat. "Fat, fat, fat, more fat" was the cry of Von Hindenberg. It should also be the aim of every dairyman in the state, for to make more food at this time is not only profitable but exceedingly patriotic.

GUESS WHO THEY ARE

Reproduction of Pictures Printed in The Gazette Within Past Several Years.

Those of our readers who are interested in county or state politics were able to recognize the three pictures printed in the "Guess Who They Are" column last week. The first bore a good likeness of Martin Pionke, one of Portage county's staunch Democrats and who was a candidate in the primaries for sheriff a couple of years ago. Mr. Pionke is a well-to-do farmer in the town of Almond. Next in order were the well known features of W. F. Owen, former district attorney and who has practiced law in Stevens Point for many years.

The bottom cut, labeled No. 69, is taken from a photograph of Burt Williams, Democratic candidate for governor last fall and who now fills the position of internal revenue collector with headquarters at Madison. Mr. Williams was formerly engaged in the newspaper business at Ashland and served as mayor of that city for several terms.

Another series is printed below:

RISING IN SERVICE

Capt. Robert Connor of Marshfield has been advanced to major, Fourth infantry, and Lieutenant Waldo E. Rosebush of Appleton to captain of infantry. Their commissions have just been signed by Gov. Philipp. Both young army officers have acquaintances in Stevens Point.

MEET AT RAPIDS

The annual summer meeting of the Ninth Councilor District Medical society will be held at Grand Rapids Thursday afternoon, and a delegation of members from Stevens Point will attend. The meeting will be called at the Elks' club house at 2 o'clock and the program will include addresses by Dr. W. G. Sexton of Marshfield, Dr. M. L. Jones of Wausau and Dr. D. Waters of Grand Rapids and a discussion led by Dr. Joseph F. Smith of Wausau. Dinner will be served at the Witter Hotel at 5. Dr. E. H. Rogers of Stevens Point is president and Dr. Joseph F. Smith of Wausau secretary of the district organization.

GOES TO ARSENAL

John F. Bogaczyk, a member of the firm of Bogaczyk Brothers, which conducts harness shops in Stevens Point and Amherst, will do his "bit" for Uncle Sam by working at his trade of harness maker. Mr. Bogaczyk who was "brought up" in the harness making business, in which his father has been engaged for 40 years, applied for a government position early in June. A few days ago he received word to report to the arsenal at Rock Island, Ill., and will go there Thursday, after spending a couple of days at his former home in Amherst. The government is making vast quantities of harnesses at Rock Island, slowness of contractors having resulted in doubling the shift in the harness making department there.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. ## BUYS CHICAGO PROPERTY

Chicago Sunday Tribune; D. E. Frost, vice president of the Citizens National bank at Stevens Point, Wis., has made three purchases of Chicago apartment properties during the last month. His latest acquisition is the Bryn Mawr building at Bryn Mawr and Magnolia avenues, 102 by 171 feet, which he has acquired at a reported consideration of $180,000, subject to an incumbrance of $80,000. In exchange Mr. Frost gave a farm of 1,120 acres in Portage county, Wis. The deal was negotiated by George W. Stewart.

BUSINESS FINE IN ENGLAND

B. C. Forbes says in the August American Magazine:

"Thousands, even millions, of families find themselves richer than they had ever dared to hope. The possession of surplus wealth is a novel sensation to them, and it is natural that they should want to procure the comforts, conveniences and luxuries this wealth can buy; even though they are appealed to from every billboard and pulpit and newspaper to save their money and buy war bonds. The consequence is that pianos, phonographs, low and medium-priced jewelry, silk raiment, custom-made suits, expensive shoes, fine cigars, the better grades of foods, motorcycles, and even low-priced automobiles, are bought more extensively than in times of peace, while, it must in truth be added, the consumption of drink in England and Scotland increased lamentably."

NEED THE CHAUTAUQUA

Its Inspiring Influences Have Beneficial Effect on the Community

Of interest to all who expect to attend the Lincoln chautauqua programs to be given in this city July 25 to 30 is the fact that never before has the chautauqua idea been so popular as it has this year, and never before has it enjoyed such universal approval. This fact was developed early in the season in a rather unexpected way. Some pessimistically inclined "calamity howler" in a chautauqua town broke into print with the suggestion that on account of the war, the town should not have its chautauqua this season. A storm of protest quickly followed, and a wave of sentiment favorable to the chautauqua movement swept the country, culminating in official approval of chautauquas this year by President Wilson, and action of congress recognizing and encouraging the chautauqua movement.

That the communities need the inspiring, mentally refreshing influences of the chautauqua is now the almost universal sentiment. A week of wholesome entertainment, including eloquent lectures by world leaders of thought, musical programs by celebrated organizations and artists, and the highest class novel entertainers, has a beneficial effect on any community. It tends to soothe the public mind, banish the feverish, fanatical ideas that come with the excitement and strain of the present times, and brings a calmer, clearer atmosphere to the community. At the same time, the chautauqua acts as a mental stimulus—sort of community tonic, that inspires the people to be better citizens, and more truly patriotic Americans.

President Wilson recognized these facts when he urged former United States Senator John W. Kern of Indiana to use his place on the Lincoln Chautauqua program in the south as a means of conveying a patriotic message from the president himself, to the people. Congress also recognized the importance of the chautauqua, when it was made exempt from revenue bill assessment on the ground that it was an educational institution, doing constructive work in the nation.

Such men as Capt. Richmond Pearson Hobson, Hon. William Howard Taft, former secretary of war Jacob M. Dickinson, Ira Landrith, Judge Allen, of Boston, Vice President Marshall, and others are recognizing the opportunity of moulding public sen## timent which is found on the chautauqua platform, and some of them will be heard on the Lincoln circuits this season.

Along with the press of the nation, the chautauqua has been given the great responsibility of putting to rout the morbid influences of war-time, and it behooves every good citizen to get in line with the chautauqua movement—to go to the tent and enjoy the high class entertainments and carry away some of its thought and ideals to be diffused among those who may be too busy, unpatriotic, or otherwise unfortunate enough to miss all the good things that are in store for them during the chautauqua week.

IS A LIEUTENANT

A telegram from Washington last Friday notified Dr. R. B. Smiley of this city of his appointment as first lieutenant in the medical reserve corps of the United States army. Dr. Smiley is holding himself subject to call.

ON BOARD SHIP

Walter J. Stewart, who enlisted in the navy as a musician several weeks ago and was assigned to the naval station at Norfolk Va., for training, is now on the U. S. S. North Carolina. Letters received from him by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Stewart, express complete satisfaction with the navy life. While at Norfolk he was chosen as one of eleven musicians who played at the funeral of a sailor who had died in the hospital and who was buried with full military honors. Mail will reach "Walt," if addressed to the U. S. S. North Carolina, in care of the postmaster, New York.

WILL SIMPLIFY LITIGATION

Procedure in every county court in Wisconsin is affected by a new law which has just gone into effect. While the main feature of this law provides for a direct appeal in contests from the county court to the supreme court of the state, instead of from the county court to the circuit court, and later from the circuit to the supreme court as heretofore, the chief benefit from the enactment of this law is to come in the elimination of the extra trial and the consequent congestion of litigation in the circuit court. Another feature of the law provides that where a litigant is entitled to a jury trial, he may have his choice as to whether the case shall be tried in the circuit or the county court. This law was recommended by the county judges' association.

The war is going to last an awful long time, the Chicago Tribune remarks, if it isn't going to end till Germany wins.

Crops reports from America will probably make the kaiser realize that there are others than himself who receive God's blessings.

Waupaca's moral tone has become so elevated that its police force has been reduced from two men to one, effecting an annual saving of $600. It is not expected that the chief of police will be able to make any complaints of subordination on the part of his patrolmen.

From the looks of the fields, Portage county farmers won't have to buy potatoes for home consumption this year. Bugs and the shortage of labor are two important things they will have to contend with, and it is certain that there's a lot of good hard work to come before the potatoes are in the bin.

All honor to Cavalry Troop I of Stevens Point!

The members of the newly organized National Guard unit may never get into the trenches—for their own sake and the sake of their relatives we hope they never will—but they will not be without glory. Every one of the husky chaps who have pledged their all for the cause which the Stars and Stripes so nobly represent, is a patriot, and whether or not the troop goes through the "baptism of fire" they will always be given credit for being "game to the core."

No bunch of rookies could get down to the business of soldiering, minus 99% of their equipment, with more outward signs of earnestness and loyalty. There is a long grind ahead of them before they can be termed finished soldiers, but they'll be equal to the test. They're a live bunch, full of men and endurance, and it's a safe wager that no Wisconsin military organization will be a "harder nut to crack" after they have gone through the training process.

Poles, Germans, Irish, Scandinavians, Yankees—but Americans—all Stevens Point's troopers, privates and officers alike, can be depended on to deliver the goods wherever they may be placed.

"The record of any legislature, and any member of it, is usually made on ten or a dozen bills, in which the issue is squarely presented of serving the public as opposed to a private interest, of making democracy more than a phrase to be paraded on the Fourth of July and at election time," says The Wisconsin State Journal of Madison. The Journal lists the assemblage to show their stand on public questions by their vote on ten important bills. Dr. Geo. D. Whiteside of Portage county voted "in the public interest" on nine of the ten, being absent when the vote on the other bill was taken. The name of Dr. Whiteside since the close of the session of the legislature, had been freely mentioned in connection with the next campaign for state senator from this district. Andrew R. Potts of Waupaca county, the district's present senator, will not be a candidate for reelection, it is said, and friends of Dr. Whiteside are pointing to his record in the assembly as an argument in favor of electing him Mr. Potts' successor. The district, which takes in Portage and Waupaca counties, has always been strongly Republican and Waupaca county has held the balance of power. However, it is believed that Dr. Whiteside would receive substantial support in the eastern county, where he is well known through his political activities in the past.

ON STAFF OF STATE SCHOOL

F. F. Showers, a former superintendent of the Stevens Point city schools and for several years proprietor of the Stevens Point business college, is now a member of the faculty of the Minnesota state college of agriculture at Northfield. Mr. Showers, after leaving Stevens Point, established quite a reputation by his feat of profitably conducting a herd of 40 pure bred cows on 40 acres. He has also done considerable lecturing on dairy topics and is in all ways amply equipped as an instructor in the industry.

UNDERTAKES BIG WORK

Portage County Red Cross Chapter to Establish Committee on Civilian Relief

Civilian relief, carried out along the lines suggested by the national organization, will be a part of the work of the Portage county chapter of the Red Cross, according to a decision unanimously reached by the executive committee at a meeting Monday evening.

A committee to be appointed by President F. S. Iyer will have general charge of the work. However, it will be necessary to engage a secretary, on whom the success of the effort will in a large measure depend. The secretary must be a person thoroughly interested in the work undertaken and possessing a keen understanding of the purposes of the organization.

Money for the conduct of the funds collected and pledged during the recent week's campaign. Portage county's contributions totalled between fifteen and twenty thousand dollars and 25% of this can be retained for home uses if application is made to national headquarters before October 1. At a headquarters meeting of the directors the executive committee was authorized to make a request for any amount needed up to the 25% maximum.

The work of the relief organization will cover a broad field. It will attend to the needs of families of enlisted men, provide a medium of communication between the men in service and their families and aid in procuring places for men when they return home. This in general is the work outlined, but there are countless other ways in which the committee will be able to render invaluable service. It is a movement second in importance only to the work of the Red Cross on the fields of battle.

MACNISHES BEAT JUNCTION

The Macnish baseball team is evidently not affected by the jinx which has been haunting the local city team all season. In a game played at the fair grounds Sunday between the Macnishes and Junction City, the latter team was defeated by the score of 10 to 4. The local battery was Literiski and Walthers; the Junction City battery Skibba and Pikarski. A good representation of rooters came down from Junction City for the game, some making the trip in cars and others by train. A game is being arranged for next Sunday between the Macnishes and Plover. The latter are reported to be undefeated this season and recently trounced the Grand Rapids nine by a score of 6 to 4. No admission is charged at the games.

NO TRESPASSING!

Stevens Point's postoffice building and the armory are under guard, not because any pro-German plots or destruction are suspected, but because members of the cavalry troop are being given practical training. A couple of days ago a business man attempted to make a short cut back of the armory, but was greeted by a challenge from the trooper on guard duty. "You can't go through here," said the soldier in a determined tone of voice. It happened that the man to whom he directed his remarks was the owner of property adjoining the armory, but that made no difference to the trooper, who politely informed him that he'd have to get permission from Captain Swan before he could go through. There was obviously no chance for a compromise, so the surprised business man, good-naturedly turned about, thoroughly satisfied that there won't be much get past Stevens Point's cavalry troop.

TO BUILD AUTOMOBILE
HIGHWAYS IN CHINA

Will Connect Shanghai With Woosung, a Deep Water Port.

Arrangements have been made for the construction of a road from Shanghai to Woosung, the deep water port at the point where the Hwangpu discharges into the Yangtze.

As all vessels beyond a certain draft with cargo for Shanghai have to discharge at Woosung, convenient connections between the two are important. A railroad has been in operation for twenty years, but a road passable for motor vehicles has been lacking.

The distance is between ten and fourteen miles, according to the route selected. By the arrangement now made the Hwangpu conservancy board, which is in charge of the maintenance of navigation on the river and receives the proceeds of a customs and surtax levied for that purpose, is to loan from its funds to the public works office of Shanghai the sum of $10,000 Mexican ($23,632 United States currency), repayable in forty annual installments without interest. The remainder of the total cost of the work, estimated at $90,000 Mexican, is to be borne by the conservancy board itself.

It is understood that immediate action on the project has been delayed by an investigation to assure officials that the proposed work will not impair the embankment of the Hwangpu.

The construction of the road will provide an important addition to the very small number of highways in China outside the cities which are available for motor vehicles. The number, however, is slowly increasing.

A concession by an American company for a road in the environs of Peking was obtained recently, and plans are announced also for the construction of a road from Dalren, in the territory on the Kwangtung peninsula leased by Japan, to the summer resort at Hoshigaura or Star Beach. An appropriation of 100,000 yen ($38,800) has been made for the purpose by the local administration. The road will be forty-eight feet wide and be reserved for rubber tired vehicles.

An Inadvisable
Place of Deposit

By GEORGETTE MALLORY

I am a woman and a librarian.

There are stories in the printed lines of the books I handle, and there are often stories between the leaves. What I mean is this: First, persons are prone when laying down a book they have been reading to use anything that comes handy between the pages for a bookmark, and, second, persons desiring to put away something temporarily are liable to slip it between the leaves of a book. There are many other reasons why things get into books, but these are the principal ones.

One morning when I went to the library to open it for the day I found a young girl waiting for me. She looked very anxious. As soon as I had unlocked the door and we were inside she asked eagerly if "Bleak House" was in the library.

I replied that I would find out for her, and, going to the shelf where it was kept, I looked. The book was there, and I gave it to the girl. Without a word she shook it, holding it open, evidently that anything between the leaves might drop on the floor. Nothing came from it, and after running the leaves rapidly between her thumb and fingers she sank into a chair and covered her face with her hands.

"What's the matter?" I asked.

We all like to have some one to help us bear our troubles, and the poor girl poured hers out to me without restraint. Hearing that her lover had jilted her, she had written him a very strong letter—such a one as she should not have written in any event—and had delayed sending it till she should have cooled off. Her brother had been reading "Bleak House," and the book lay open on a table. Called away suddenly, she had put this letter, sealed, stamped and addressed, in the open place and closed the book, intending to return for it. Learning that the story she had heard about her lover's unfaithfulness was untrue, she intended to destroy her letter, but in her happy relief had forgotten it for several days. When she remembered it her brother, who had already finished reading the book, had returned it to the library. She asked me if "Bleak House" had been since taken out. I looked at the date stamped on the paper used for the purpose pasted in the book cover and informed her that the book had been out a few days.

"Have you heard from your lover lately?" I asked.

"No," she replied bitterly. "I never expect to hear from him again. He will ignore me from now on."

"You can write him that you wrote the letter under a mistake."

"That will do no good. It is having written such a letter at all that has done the mischief. He is a very self contained person and has always feared that I am too fiery to suit him."

At this juncture some girls on their way to school came in to return books, and I was obliged to leave the poor girl, who departed looking the picture of despair. I inwardly determined to try to follow up "Bleak House" and see where it had been, with a view to getting some definite information as to what had become of the missing letter. But the book after its return by the girl's brother had been given out by one of the other girls employed in the library, and, as such she remembered having done so, she could not tell to whom she had given it. Another girl had taken it when it was returned.

Miss Wainwright, the girl who had written the letter, came into the library every day for a week and asked if any one had left the letter at the library, but as I continually disappointed her she finally gave the matter up. She told me that she had not heard a word from her lover, and she had concluded that he had dropped her.

A month passed, and Miss Wainwright came into the library one day looking so thin and pale that I believed she was going into a decline. Wishing to end her suspense, I urged her to write to her lover and have the matter over with. She shook her head. During our conversation I got her to give me his name and address without her suspecting I was inquiring for it especially, and I made up my mind to write this gentleman stating that a letter had been misdirected to him and ask him if he had received such a letter.

As soon as I got time I wrote the letter and put it aside—not in a book—till I should leave the library in the evening, when I proposed to mail it.

Just before I left one of the girls came to me with the missing letter. She had gone to the place where Dickens' works were kept and, taking out a book from the lowest shelf, saw something white on the floor behind it. Taking it out, she found that it was an unmailed letter. It had doubtless dropped out of "Bleak House" after the book's return to the library by Miss Wainwright's brother.

I called up Miss Wainwright and asked her if she could come over to the library. She joined me there, and I handed her the letter.

It would be impossible to describe her expression of relief.

She at once wrote her lover to know why he had been silent so long, and he replied that since she had not replied to his last letter he had concluded she had grown tired of him.

I don't know a more dangerous place to leave any article than in a book. Books circulate, and no one can ever tell what is to become of any particular volume.

PREPARE FOR BUILDING

Soo Line Plans to Double Ice Storage Capacity in Stevens Point This Fall

Plans for doubling the ice storage capacity of the Soo line in Stevens Point, as announced in The Gazette several months ago, have taken more definite shape. Superintendent C. E. Urbahn has been authorized to go ahead with preliminary arrangements and it is very probable that work on the new structure will be started early this fall.

The present ice house is a huge building located south of the main line and a short distance east of the Church street crossing. It was enlarged a few years ago, but the increasing consumption of ice by the company makes it necessary to provide more storage room. Stevens Point is the most important icing point on the line between Chicago and the Twin Cities and many tons of ice are used daily during the summer months for re-icing refrigerator cars. Considerable quantities are also used in the passenger service.

The company plans to build a new building the same size as the old and will have it stand parallel to the present structure. There will be space enough between the two to permit of two sidetracks being run up from the east. The building will be constructed by the company's own building department and it will be of the same material as in the old house.

The plan of rearranging the switch tracks east of the Church street crossing in order to make it unnecessary to run west of Church street will be eventually carried out, as has been promised, but it is not believed this can be done before some time next year. When the change is made the car repair department, which is now just east of Church street, will be moved to some point farther east in the yards.

KOLLOCK CHILD DIES

Kollock and daughter, Miss Ruth, left for Ivy, Virginia, last Wednesday night in response to a message announcing the death that day of their grandchild and nephew, William Kollock, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kollock. The child was ill less than a week and the end was unexpected. He would have been five years of age had he lived until last Friday. Funeral services were conducted on his birthday at Olivet chapel at Ivy, J. A. Porter of Winona, Minn., relative of the child's mother, also attended the funeral.

Members of Fire Department To Benefit From New Law Increasing Leave Periods

Members of the Stevens Point fire department will benefit from the new law passed by the legislature increasing the rest periods for firemen. The bill was introduced by Assemblyman Gettelman of Milwaukee and will soon be in force.

The bill provides for one full rest day of twenty-four consecutive hours during each 168 hours in cities of the fourth class. These rest periods are to be granted except in cases of emergency, when they may be suspended.

There was considerable opposition to the bill from city officials of the smaller cities of the state because of the increased cost which the measure would impose on cities for the support of fire departments. It passed by a large vote, however, and will be a welcome boon to the firemen of the state. The schedule of rest periods varies with the classification of cities.

In Stevens Point, which is a city of the 4th class, based on the census figures of 1910, firemen for several years have been given one day off in ten. Under the new law there must be one day for rest out of every seven. In consequence it is probable that at least one new fireman must be added to the force.

It was said in favor of the bill that if home life was to be given firemen at all, the measure should become a law.

FINDS PLACE IN JAIL

Stephen Wells, So-called Secret Service Man, Arrested for Jumping Board Bill

Stephen Wells, who is said to have posed as a secret service man during a stay of several weeks in Stevens Point, was brought back from Wausau Tuesday by Undersheriff Frank Kubisiak, charged with "jumping" a $25 board bill at the Myers Hotel. The complaint was made by A. Myers, who also charges Wells with the embezzlement of funds belonging to the Portage Red Cross chapter.

Wells, who is middle aged, a smooth talker and a good mixer, came here a stranger, but soon made the acquaintance of many local residents. He gradually won the confidence of Mr. Myers, who, in the work of selling lottery tickets on a colt donated to the Red Cross a few weeks ago, accepted the proffered assistance of Wells. Wells disappeared on the Fourth of July, but was traced to Wausau, where his arrest followed.

In Justice Park's court this morning he admitted his debt to Mr. Myers for the board and also admitted he had appropriated Red Cross funds to the amount of $20, which had been paid by check by George Wolf of Eau Claire, who had settled for 20 tickets on the colt. Whether or not Wells realized anything from tickets he himself sold is a question. He has been given until July 27 to settle up both accounts, as he said he had property in Tennessee from which he thinks he will be able to realize funds. If he does not he will be charged with embezzlement of the $20 as well as failure to pay his board bill. In the meantime he is in jail in default of $200 bail.

"Can't you let me have something on account today, Mr. Jones?" asked the bill collector. "It has been running a long time, you know, and"--

"Yes, I know it has," snapped Jones. "It's a wonder to me the damned thing wouldn't get out of breath."--New York World.

DR. ALFRED ZIMMERMANN

VON BETHMANN HOLLWEG

News Snapshots Of the Week

Immediately offered to the Kaiser. The rapid advance of the Russians in Galicia threatened the Austrian stronghold, Lemberg. Pershing's troops pitched camp somewhere near the front in France, where they were furnished with helmets and gas masks. An embargo was placed by the president on shipping to neutrals. Vance McCormick, Democratic national chairman, was put on the embargo board to represent the state department. Receiving a commission in the British army, Kermit Roosevelt will take part in the Mesopotamia campaign. Colonel Green, the son of the late Hetty Green, married Miss Mabel E. Harlow of Chicago, giving her over $600,000 as a wedding gift.

The long expected political crisis took shape in Germany when a member of the reichstag opened fire on Von Bethmann Hollweg asking for a statement of Germany's peace terms, which, it was reported, he refused giving; the resignations of Von Bethmann Hollweg, Dr. Alfred Zimmermann, the German foreign secretary, and others were said to have been offered neutral countries of Europe, though, of course, there still remain to the state department certain sources of information at Berlin more or less reliable.

Whatever the German people may be thinking in their growing desire for peace, it is felt that nothing has so moved the German government to a realization of the seriousness of its situation as the totally unexpected promptness with which the American nation, with its vast resources in men and materials, threw off the mantle of peace for the tunic of war.

Mr. Wilson, according to his friends and advisers, firmly believes that if the United States throws its whole energy into the war the conflict will be brought to an end within a year, with the United States deserving the lion's share of the credit. Just as firmly does he believe, it is said, that a lagging course will spell ruin for the allied cause and leave the United States as the sole opponent of Prussian power and world dominion.

New Army Generals Assigned.
Assignments for the recently promoted general officers of the regular army were announced by the war department as follows:

Major General Charles G. Morton, to command the troops at Syracuse, N. Y., the largest regular army expansion post.
Major General John F. Morrison, to command the troops at Chikamauga Park, Ga.
Brigadier General John W. Ruckman, to command South Atlantic coast artillery district, Charleston, S. C.
Brigadier General Adelbert Cronkite, to command the Panama coast artillery district, canal zone.

Brigadier General Joseph T. Dickman, to command troops at Fort Ethan Allen, Vt.
Brigadier General Augustus P. Blockson, ordered to the southern department for assignment by the department commander.

Brigadier General Henry T. Allen, to command troops at Fort Riley, Kan.
Brigadier General Chase W. Kennedy, to command troops at Gettysburg, Pa.

Brigadier General Edwin F. Glenn, to command troops at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind.
Brigadier General Henry C. Hodges, Jr., to command troops at San Francisco.

Brigadier General William H. Sage, to command troops at Fort Snelling, Minn.
Brigadier General Samuel D. Sturgis, ordered to the southern department for assignment.

Ship Work Is Rushed.
Expansion of shipbuilding facilities at the government navy yards now in progress will make it possible to have sixteen war vessels on the ways at the plants at one time, Secretary Daniels said. The number does not include submarines or chasers for the mosquito fleet. Three battleships, four destroyers and a number of smaller craft are now being built at government yards.

"All this work at navy yards is being rushed," said the secretary. "The men working overtime and in shifts, and in most cases bonuses are offered for completion ahead of schedule."

Date of Next Loan Not Fixed.
Secretary McAdoo has issued the following:

"My attention has just been called to a report circulated in New York city that the next offering of the liberty loan would be made on the 15th of September next and that the amount would be $2,000,000,000. This report is wholly unauthorized. I have not yet determined when the next offering shall be made nor what the amount shall be. I desire to warn the public against recurrent unreliable reports of this character. When the amount and date of the offering have been determined official announcement will be made by the treasury department."

Warn Against Optimism.
Officials of the American government are beginning to deplore the possibility that the American public will grow too optimistic over the reports from Europe tending to show that Germany is on the verge of a collapse.

The fear is expressed that the people of this country might take these reports too literally and begin to show indifference toward the tremendous preparations which the United States has laid out for its part in the world conflict.

In the opinion of American military experts Germany is far from final defeat on the field of battle, and officials of the state department called attention to the fact that the internal crisis in Germany has not yet succeeded in disturbing the power of the German government over its people.

The reports from Germany are being scanned with the utmost eagerness by President Wilson and his advisers. For the most part, however, the administration must rely on what appears in the German newspapers that get over into Holland, Denmark and the smaller financial loss by detriment to his private business."

Alabama May Get Nitrate Plant.
Warrior River, in Alabama, is the first choice of the army board as a site for the proposed $20,000,000 government nitrate plant which congress authorized in the last appropriation bill and for which a dozen states have made strong bids.

The report of the army board which made the investigation into the sites has been submitted to President Wilson by Secretary of War Baker, and final selection of the site will depend upon the decision of the chief executive. The army board submits eleven locations and rates them according to their relative importance as the center of a government nitrate manufacturing industry.

The army board, however, recommends that at least $4,000,000 be spent in experiments in the manufacture of nitrate before the proposed $20,000,000 factory is constructed, so that the government can test out each of the nitrate extracting processes and select the best one.

Nation's Needs Paramount.
"In either case the boards are directed to conduct the investigation prescribed by regulation and to make exemptions or discharges in proper cases whether the claim was made by the registrant or by some other persons in respect of the registrant."

"The task of selection is so vast that without the cooperation of the people at large the determination of individual cases will be very difficult."

"Third persons, and especially employers, ought to keep in mind, however, that the law makes no exemptions in the interest of individuals, except as the interests of individuals coincide with the interests of the nation. It is not loss to private interest that is intended to be protected. It is only loss to the nation. Men who can be replaced by other men cannot be discharged from draft, even if they are employed by persons who are directly engaged in work for the government."

"The duty, however, of those who ask exemptions for men in their employ will be one of patriotic thought for the best interests of the nation, and the employer who can readily replace those of his men who are drafted for service will, of course, be minded of the greater interest of the nation in raising an army rather than offer neutral countries of Europe, though, of course, there still remain to the state department certain sources of information at Berlin more or less reliable.

HAVE A HEART

One of the most marvelous and at the same time, generally unappreciated faculties of the human body is its ability to accommodate itself to insurmountable injuries. Some of the indispensable bodily functions are carried on by duplicate organs as the two lungs, two kidneys, for example. If one becomes incapacitated, the other succeeds remarkably well in doing double work.

In the instance of that most essential and yet only single organ, the heart, Nature has provided an ability to the body to maintain life even in the face of serious disorders. This capacity is called "compensation" by physicians. With proper consideration of the lightening of the load put upon the organ, it is possible for a person with an inoperable heart disease to live to the normal "expectancy," as the life insurance people say.

The first thing for a person to do who has learned from a competent physician that he has an affected heart is to set his mind in order. He should accept wholeheartedly the philosophy that "What can't be cured must be endured." If he isn't "yellow" and doesn't belong to the "quitter class," it's remarkable how easy endurance will become. To squeal about his infirmity as is inexcusable as is the child who lies down and pounds his head and toes against the floor because his mother prohibits him doing something he desired very much to do.

If the victim of heart disease is told to avoid rapid stair climbing, he will soon learn that the few extra seconds required to go slowly don't count. If he must give up violent exercise, he can learn how much recreation and keen enjoyment are to be found in books and watching others play. Many of the most beautiful things in life are seen and heard only by the persons who are compelled to be quiet. The hustlers miss such things entirely.

Of course it is far better to avoid heart disease than to be compelled to accommodate oneself to it, or worse, to die from it. And the disease is largely preventable. The attention that modern physicians are paying to diseased tonsils and diseased teeth will result in the saving of many cases of death and invalidism.

Kill Germs and Save Human Life

The menace of militarism, the horrors of war and the toll of death taken in all frightful accidents is as nothing compared to the danger of unseen deadly germs.

Even in the war itself the toll of human life taken outright by the whizzing bullet, the bursting shrapnel, or the piercing steel is less than that caused by the unseen deadly germs that attack the wounded and the well alike.

Human life will be lengthened and human happiness increased when we learn better to guard ourselves against the danger of the ever present germs of disease.

Powdered boric is one of Nature's most wonderful gifts to man, for it enables us, through antiseptics, to ward off the danger of infection.

Owing to its wonderful antiseptic properties it cannot be too highly recommended for liberal use in the care of the person wherever and whenever exposed to the germs of disease.

Pure powdered boric may be used with absolute freedom and safety in all the natural cavities of the body. To realize how healing it is, yet how safe we have but to recall that the physician almost always prescribes it as the principal ingredient of an eye water.

The manufacture of powdered boric has been brought to such a high degree of efficiency by one concern that if we always remember to specify "20 Mule Team Powdered Boric" we know we have the real article in full strength.

On every package of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric will be found directions for its multitude of uses and the expense is so little that no one should ever be without it.

A solution of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric in water makes an absolute and positive antiseptic for all personal use. It is excellent for a shampoo, for it kills the germ which makes the dandruff that spoils the lustre of the hair and causes it to fall out and cease to grow.

It should be used as a mouth wash on account of its antiseptic qualities whenever there is the slightest danger of having been exposed by being brought in contact with persons suffering with colds, sore throats, etc.

To overcome the unpleasant effect consequent upon excessive perspiration the use of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric will give great satisfaction, making everything sweet and clean and healing any abrasion that may have occurred.

A hot foot bath with a liberal quantity of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric will make the feet feel ten years younger.

For the baby a liberal dusting with 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric not only assures freedom from chafing but helps to maintain an antiseptically clean condition on the little body.

To any cut or abrasion 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric should be freely applied.

20 Mule Team Powdered Boric is a foe to germ life.

It should be on the dressing table of every dainty woman and liberally used in every household where health is prized.

Authorized representative will soon call at your home and make arrangements for you to obtain, FREE, a full size package of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric.

NEWS AND VIEWS FROM HERE AND THERE

The United States government has requested 12 per cent of the pack of green peas to be made by the Antigo Canning company. Indications are favorable for a record pack.

The contract to furnish automobile license plates for 1918 was let to the Schwaab Stamp & Seal company of Milwaukee. The specifications call for 150,000 sets and the price is sixteen cents a set. The colors are cream and black.

There are 42 men and 219 women now drawing the annuity from the state teacher's retirement fund. The state's contribution to the retirement fund (10 cents for each child of school age) for the last year was $67,006. The fund has a reserve of more than $454,000.

Gusta Webb, sentenced from Merrill in 1915 to 8 years in the penitentiary for attempting to poison her husband, has been granted an unconditional pardon. Her affinity, Fred Deisinger who was implicated in the crime and was given a similar sentence, must serve out his term.

Agents of the department of justice brought in four more Kenosha people for disloyalty, the list including three men and a woman. Every one of them was forced to kiss "old glory" and to agree to display a silk flag in the windows of their homes until after peace is declared between the United States and Germany.

The canine family is persona non grata in Kenosha. The common council of the city passed a resolution fixing the amount of the annual license fee for dog licenses at $50.00. In addition to this the council directed that all dogs in the city be kept muzzled the year around. The drastic action followed the death of Eleanor Lindner, 6 years old, who was bitten by a dog three years ago.

The new state capitol is now completed. The construction of this building and its accessories, together with the detached heat, light and power plant, has taken nearly twelve years of steady work and supervision on the part of the capitol commission and its architects. The total appropriation made to date for the capitol building and its appurtenances including the light, heat and power plant aggregates $7,255,917.66.

About 165,000 automobile licenses will be issued in Wisconsin this year, says Merlino Hull, secretary of state. Upwards of 2,000 applications for license tags are being received weekly in Madison. To date the automobile license department of the secretary of state's office has issued 145,000 licenses. By the end of the year 165,000 will have been issued, based on the number of applications now being received, and the total may reach 175,000.

Wisconsin liquor manufacturers will lose from eight to ten millions should congress enact a law releasing whiskey from bond. At a meeting of the Wisconsin Wholesale Liquor Dealers and Distillers it was stated that there is now in bond in the state approximately 25,000,000 gallons. As a compromise the Wisconsin dealers ask that whiskey in bond be left there, but that the use of foodstuffs in the manufacture of liquor be discontinued during the war.

Offended because the American flag was flying over the Lincoln Center camp at Clair Lake with a white border around it, Frank Morris, Jr., of Milton Junction complained to the sheriff. It took that official some time to convince Miss Lacker Steen, head of the camp, that she was violating the federal law. The camp was created by Rev. Jenkin Lloyd Jones of Chicago. According to Miss Steen, the flag has floated with the same white border for twelve years.

Governor Philipp has signed the bill providing funds for a legislative investigation of the subject of branding and marketing farm products. This committee will begin its investigation at once. The measure which has been signed by the governor provides that all expenses incurred by the committee shall be audited and paid as claims against the state. Since 1913 the subject of farm marketing has been discussed by agricultural organizations, but this is the first official legislative investigation of the subject which has been ordered.

With the selection of a coroner's jury to investigate the tragedy at the home of Louis Alsbacher city treasurer of Mauston, where the bodies of Alsbacher, his mother, Mary, aged seventy, and David Gray, sixty-two years old, were found dead from bullet wounds, the inquest was postponed until July 19. Authorities expressed the opinion that Gray, who had recently purchased the Alsbacher home, was mentally unsound. Chief of Police Bentley advanced the theory that Gray shot Alsbacher and mother and killed himself following a dispute over financial affairs.

An important appearing stranger came to the village of Wauwec, Wis., the other day and ordered all amusements that savored of German origin stopped. No more pinochle or schaf-skopf games were started in the corner store. He also put a ban on the speaking of German as far as possible. A few of the older German inhabitants who could not quite get away from the language of the nation of their birth, spoke in the familiar tongue, but only in the privacy of their homes. After several days, when the stranger did not return to see that his orders were carried out, an enterprising citizen upon investigation discovered that the so-called official was only a traveling salesman.

The Jesuit fathers of the Province of Missouri have offered to the government the large island at Lake Beulah, Wis., with all barracks and equipment, to be used as a training station for hospital purposes or any other use for which it may be required during the war.

HOW TO CLEAN ICE-BOX

The August Woman's Home Companion says:

"You will want a pan of water boiling on the stove, a bottle brush, and cleaning cloths. Choose a time when the ice is reduced to a small piece. Take it out and wrap it in a clean towel or absorbent paper. Take out the drain pipe and the trays on which the ice rests. Scrub them with soap and water, using the bottle brush for the drain pipe, and then put them into the boiling water. Let them boil while you wipe out the ice compartment with cold water—no soda is necessary here, for no grease goes into this compartment—then follow the damp cloth with a dry one. Take the trays and drain pipe out of the boiling water and drop them into a pan of cold water to chill. Wipe them as dry as possible, return them to the ice compartment and replace the ice. Drying the ice trays may seem foolish, but it is good economy of ice and food as well as bacteriology. Empty and clean your drip pan, or, if your refrigerator is connected with a drain in the floor, clean that. Remember that water in the drip pan is simply stagnant water in a dark place, a favorite medium for all sorts of organisms. A very little chloride of lime will help to keep it wholesome, but frequent cleaning with hot water is better."

Ed. Tauschmann of Oshkosh, who has been working temporarily as clerk in the Ringness shoe store, leaves Saturday night for Neenah, where he is to be manager of a new shoe store about to be opened.

Mrs. A. Poust of Amherst, who had been visiting friends in this city for several days, returned to her home Tuesday. She was accompanied by Miss Lilly Poust of this city.

P. L. Moran, charged with robbing the A. W. Breitenstein warehouse at Stockton a few weeks ago, pleaded guilty and waived examination before Justice Park last Saturday. He was bound over to the circuit court.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo St. Clair and two daughters of Wausau are enjoying a week's visit at the home of his brother-in-law, James Lewis, in the town of Stockton. Mr. St. Clair is an employee of the Wisconsin Valley Electric Co.

Last week's issue of the Table Mountain Beacon, published at Karmen, S. Dak., states that three farmers near there sold their entire crops of wool at 60 cents per pound. This is undoubtedly the highest price paid for wool in many years.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Miller and daughter, Edna, of Chicago, are guests at the home of H. H. Pagel on Clark street. Miss Gertrude Greenfield of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. J. Hubbsch and daughter, Eva, of Milwaukee, were over Sunday guests at the Pagel home.

Mrs. J. W. Livingston, a former resident of Stevens Point, when her late husband was a member of the Normal faculty, will return from Oregon this fall and serve as principal of a ward school at Plattville, this state, where she also resided before going west.

Mrs. W. W. Wade, who returned the first of last week from the Twin Cities, where she took a course in Red Cross work, spent the week end at Milwaukee and Great Lakes. At the latter place she visited her son, Carroll Scherr, who is training for the navy.

Mrs. W. F. Cartmill and son, Howard, have been spending a few days in Chicago. While there Howard, who was seriously injured several weeks ago in the Pullman shops at Pullman, Ill., underwent a physical examination before the state industrial commission.

Elizabeth Hubbard, 15-year old daughter of Dan Hubbard, was sentenced to the state industrial school for girls at Milwaukee last week by Judge J. A. Murat in juvenile court. The girl was taken into custody as she was about to leave for Fond du Lac, where she hoped to obtain work, she said.

James Moxon left last Friday on a trip to Chicago and Fort Sheridan. His brother, Adolph Butter, resides in Chicago and another brother, George, is at the officers' training camp at Fort Sheridan.

Conductor and Mrs. F. A. Delap, residents of Stevens Point for several years, have moved to Ashland.

Miss Sarah Lane of Wild R. has been spending two weeks in this city, a guest of Miss Margaret Tozier. The two young ladies, together with Warren Tozier, motored to Wild Rose Sunday. Warren Rice, the grandfather of Warren and Miss Margaret Tozier, who had been spending a week visiting friends and relatives at Wild Rose, returned with them.

Jacob Delinger of Rosholt drove down yesterday morning and was accompanied on the return trip by Carl Becker, who has been employed as foreman of county road construction work since last spring. The demands of his farm compelled Mr. Delinger to resign the county job. He devoted most of the season to building the macadam highway in Plover and Buena Vista townships, running south from what is known as the Moore barn. The work is now practically completed but because of the scarcity of men and teams it progressed slowly and will cost considerably more than an equal amount done in other years.

THE COUNTY CALF CONTEST

The picture above shows the contestants and their entries in the first annual Portage county calf contest, held at the Stevens Point fair and at the Stevens Point fair and at the Stevens Point fair. There were thirteen contestants, one of whom was a girl. First and second prizes were won by Carl Swenson of Amherst and Leonard O'Keefe of Arnott, respectively. The two winners then entered their calves in the state fair in Milwaukee, where they won first and second places in the state competition. The Amherst lad, besides winning first at Milwaukee, was awarded the grand championship on his Holstein calf.

LOCALS AGAIN LOSE

The city baseball team was handed another defeat last Sunday, when they crossed bats with the Merrill team at Merrill, the final score being 6 to 3. The battery for Stevens Point was Hilliard and Menzel; for Merrill Dorsey and Redmond. Hilliard is a former Kewatin academy player and although he has not played in the last three years, pitched a good game. He struck out ten men and allowed eight hits, while the locals secured eleven hits and only six of the Point players were retired by the strikeout route. The batting of Fishleigh was the feature of the game. He scored four hits in five times up, the last one being a triple. Merrill's victory was largely the result of the successful bunching of hits. Stevens Point plays Stanley at Stanley next Sunday.

END OF A PERFECT DAY

Just as he was singing "The End of a Perfect Day" while he was walking off the gang plank from J. J. Bukolt's river cruiser Nymphaea Sunday evening, Carl T. Gunderson got a drenching in the waters of the Wisconsin off the dock at the west end of Main street. Mr. Gunderson was one of about fifteen letter carriers and clerks of the local postoffice who enjoyed their annual picnic Sunday afternoon at the hospitable home of Frank Blood, Sr., some twelve miles up the river. After partaking of one of Mr. Blood's famous chicken dinners they embarked for home. Mr. Gunderson was anxious to get to shore and missed his step in the darkness, as a result of which he went in up to his shoulders.

MUST DELAY IMPROVEMENTS

The library board held an adjourned meeting Saturday evening for the purpose of arranging for redecoration of the interior of the library building, only to find that the treasury funds had been so depleted that it will be impossible to carry out the plan until time for another appropriation from the city. Although the appropriation was materially increased this year, there were debts to take care of, new shelving to be put in, plastering to be done and a fence and coal shed to be erected. These have been taken care of and the building except for the redecoration, is in excellent condition. The plan to close the building during August for redecoration has been abandoned and there will be no interruption.

Night is the only thing that can fall gracefully.

Ungrammatically speaking, a knee is a conjunction.

PICTURES OF SOLDIERS

Some snapshots taken at Fort Sheridan, Ill., where some of the men who will serve as officers in the new national army are being given intensive training, are on display in one of the windows at the Palace of Sweets. Most of the pictures were taken by Forest Houlihan of this city, who sent the films here to be developed at the Cook Studio. Some of them have also been enlarged. Among the familiar faces shown are those of Houlihan, George Macnisch, George Moxon and J. H. Abrahamson, who have a soldierly appearance in their natty khaki uniforms. Men are shown at gun practice and as a leisurely group and if their looks count for anything Uncle Sam is going to have a fine bunch of officers.

REVIEW BOARD MEETS

The board of review for Stevens Point began its adjourned session at the city offices Monday. The board meets to review the assessment rolls and to hear objections to assessments made. The mayor and city clerk are ex-officio members, but Supervisors G. L. Park and J. B. Carpenter are actively in charge of the work, assisted by assessors L. P. Moen and S. E. Karner.

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES

At the adjourned meeting of the library board held last Saturday evening, it was decided that the redecoration of the library would have to be postponed indefinitely, owing to the lack of funds to carry on the work.

The most popular books in the library during the past month, have been:

Wells—Mr. Britling Sees it Through.
Wister—Pentecost of Calamity.
Service—Rhymes of a Red Cross Man.

A number of new books for vacation reading have been added to the girls and boys department.

Following is the list:
Alkheiter—Hunters of the Hills;
Tree of Appomattox.
Singmaster—Emmeline; The Long Journey.

Salin—Gold Seekers of '49.
Jewett—Betty Leicester.
Hill—Fighting a Fire.

Brooks—The Boy Emigrants.
Forrester—Greenacre Girls.
Miller—Boys' Book of Hunting and Fishing.

Field—Quest of the Four Leaved Clover.
Schultz—Apank, Caller of Buffalo.

Ellis—Wide Awake Girls at College.
Thurston—Scoutmaster of Troop 5.
Smith—In the Land of Make Believe.

Caught Rat and Opossum.
Hazel Green, Ky.—One night Red Bob Combes set two steel traps under his house. The next morning, when he went to see what he had caught, he was surprised to see a big rat in one and a small opossum in the other. The opossum belonged to Ben Creech and had escaped. The opossum was caught by the foot and was not seriously hurt and was returned to the owner in good condition.

John Adams, who died in his ninety-first year, was the oldest of our ex-presidents.

Continental Currency.
Continental currency notes were in July, 1780, worth 2 cents on the dollar, and it took a "wagon load of currency" to buy a wagon load of provisions.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Indigestion.
For chronic indigestion caused by too great acidity of the stomach, ach juices, bicarbonate of soda is the usual treatment, but Dr. Louis T. M. de Salons of Philadelphia quotes approvingly in the New York Medical Journal Dr. Hayem's most recent procedure.

This is to administer artificial Carlsbad water, the effects of which, he says, seem to be more pronounced as well as more lasting.

Dr. Hayem's artificial Carlsbad water is made thus: Sulphate of soda, 44 parts; bicarbonate of soda, 36 parts; chloride of soda, 18 parts; sulphate of potash, 2 parts. Of these mix one tea-spoonful is given in a half pint of water at between 80 and 120 degrees F. one hour before breakfast.

MRS. FLOYD ALBAN

Resident of This City Passes Away

Thursday Following Long

Illness with Peritonitis

Mrs. Floyd Alban died at the family home, 316 Mathilda street, last Thursday afternoon. Death was caused by peritonitis. She had been ill for ten weeks and for several weeks prior to the end her condition grew steadily worse.

Mrs. Alban, whose maiden name was Daisy Adelle Liscomb, was born at Stockbridge, Wis., July 30, 1882, and was therefore 35 years of age at the time of her death. The family moved to Lanark when she was one and one half years old. She was married at that place in 1903 to William M. Murray. Mr. Murray died in 1905 and in that year, Mrs. Murray came to Stevens Point, where she had made her home ever since. In 1907 she was married to Floyd Alban of this city.

She is survived by her husband, five children as follows: Marian Adelle, Sybil Dorothy, Jean Meatie, Janet Celina and Ada Virginia; by her mother, Mrs. Lowell Liscomb, one brother, Glen C. Liscomb of Malta, Montana, and three sisters, Mrs. Arthur Haertel and Miss Carol Liscomb of this city, and Mrs. Frances Bachelor of Chicago.

The funeral was held from the home on Mathilda street Sunday afternoon, Rev. James Blake officiating. The body was laid to rest in Forest cemetery. The pallbearers were Robert Sparks, George Lutz, Frank Thompson, Edward Frances, Martin Spillman and Thomas Coan, Jr.

Those from out of this city who attended the funeral were Mrs. Andrew H. Stevens and daughter, Mildred, of Stockbridge, George Murray

WORKING AT McDILL

Weekly Meetings Being Held in Which

Various Committees Join—

Ladies Invited

Interest in Red Cross work is being shown in weekly meetings at McDill. On Wednesday, July 11, Mrs. J. W. Coon and Mrs. F. E. Walbridge of River Pines instructed a class at the home of Mrs. Mary Willard, and this afternoon at 2 o'clock work will be done in the school house at McDill.

River Pines, the paper mills and ladies from the farming communities are joining with McDill in this work as they did Tag Day and membership campaigns. Meetings will be held each week and later a regular day will be designated. Every woman in the district is most cordially invited to come and enjoy an afternoon with her neighbors and help in this patriotic cause.

River Pines is showing a commendable spirit in Red Cross activities. The large membership from there is really a donation to the Portage county chapter from patients, nurses and others at the sanatorium who cannot do practical work but wish to add their mite. There are now about 80 Red Cross members there, including 24 who belong to the local chapter. One of the members, Mrs. F. E. Walbridge, is a charter member and her application went to Washington headquarters when the request for a charter was made.

GUARDS NUMBER 83

A meeting of the Home Guards company was held in the armory Monday evening with seventy members attending. The total membership has reached 83, all but 13 being present at Monday's drill. Various maneuvers previously carried out were reviewed and the remainder of the evening spent in marching in squads. The next drill will be held in the armory this evening at 8 o'clock.

Half Breed Wanted to Get There as Soon as Possible.

Alamosa, Cal.—There is no place like home even if it is only the penitentiary. "I want to go back home again as soon as I can," said Juan Medina, a half breed Pueblo Indian, when haled into a justice court here on a charge of burglary.

"I have served twenty-seven years in six terms within the penitentiary," said he in good English. "They always treat me well there, and I want to get back."

Medina, fifty-six years old, his face furrowed and shriveled with time, with straight black hair and every appearance of a criminal indifferent to his fate, was bound over to the district court.

WINS NOTED SCHOLARSHIP.

Snow of Harvard Combines Unusual Qualities Demanded.

Cambridge, Mass.—William B. Snow, Jr., of Stoneham was awarded the Francis H. Burr scholarship at Harvard university. He is the first undergraduate to answer the requirements since its establishment four years ago.

The scholarship was founded in memory of Frank Burr, former football captain and a distinguished scholar. The yearly income from the fund is $325, to be paid an undergraduate who combines as nearly as possible Burr's remarkable qualities of character, leadership, scholarship and athletic ability.

Dean Yeomans and Dean Briggs selected Snow for the honor. The recipient played guard on the football team, is the university's champion heavyweight wrestler and boxer and is a defense man on the lacrosse team.

ANOTHER OFFER OF MOTOR-BOATS TO UNITED STATES

St. Louis Men Ready For the Work of Submarine Chasing.

St. Louis.—More than a score of motorboat owners of this city have offered their services and their boats to the navy, it was announced by Nelson Thomas, secretary of the St. Louis Yacht club. Some of the boats are large and swift enough to be used for submarine chasers, and others are of such construction that anti-aircraft guns can be mounted on them for harbor duty.

Albert Bond Lambert, a wealthy aviation enthusiast, and 125 other expert fliers of this city are at the service of the country, the offer having been made a short time ago.

A number of St. Louis manufacturers are advertising for girls to enter their factories and learn the work in order that a large number of men may be released for service. The Western Union has established a class for the training of girl operators and already has an enrollment of fifty, which will be raised to 500 if possible. The chamber of commerce began the enrollment of all able-bodied men in this district.

To Maintain Earth Roads.

Earth roads should be maintained by keeping a good crown on the road, the surface smooth and the side ditches open. In this way the travel will be distributed over the roadway and water will be drained away rapidly. The systematic use of the road drag will give better results for the money spent than any other method of maintaining an earth road.

OPENING THE BIBLE

When the President Takes the Oath of Office.

NO PLACE FIXED IN ADVANCE.

The Passage of Scripture Upon Which the Chief Executive Presumes His Lips Is Entirely a Matter of Chance—The Bible After the Ceremony.

The president before he enters on the execution of his office takes an oath or affirmation that he "will faithfully execute the office of president of the United States and will, to the best of my ability, preserve, protect and defend the constitution of the United States," and this oath is usually sealed or confirmed by the kissing of the Bible.

The kissing of the Bible as part of the inaugural ceremony is perhaps following a very ancient custom. The Egyptians were required to kiss the rolls on which the commands of Joseph were written.

The custom requires that immediately after the president elect has taken the oath, with hand on the Bible, the clerk of the United States supreme court shall throw open the book, and the incoming chief magistrate shall imprint a kiss on one of its open pages.

Doubting Thomases have always thought that there was no element of chance in this performance and that the passage of Scripture is always carefully selected in advance, and the book is held by the clerk of the court in position so that the incoming chief will kiss the passage that it is intended he shall kiss, but this supposition is entirely wrong.

James D. Maher, clerk of the supreme court, said that the opening of the book is entirely "haphazard" and that no man on earth has the slightest intimation in advance regarding the passage of Scripture that will be thus brought into notice.

Usually the Bible that is used in administering the oath is bought by the clerk of the supreme court and paid for out of his pocket and is a small Oxford edition costing $10 to $15. The late James H. McKinley, for many years clerk of the supreme court, once said, "You see, congress expends money only by appropriation, and if we were to wait for congress to appropriate the price of the book we might never get a Bible on time."

There have been exceptions, however, when the Bible came from other sources. For instance, when James A. Garfield was inaugurated March 4, 1881, he carried in his overcoat pocket to the capital a well worn, leather bound volume which had been presented to him by his mother. The book was taken from the White House and in a few years found its way to the stall of a bookseller in San Francisco. How it got there has never been known, nor is it likely it ever will be. A few years ago it was offered for sale at a very high price.

Chester A. Arthur took the oath of office just after midnight at his home in New York city Sept. 20, 1881. The Bible used was one belonging to the then chief justice of the state of New York. It is cherished by the judge's family as an heirloom.

On March 4, 1885, when Grover Cleveland was inaugurated president for the first time, he, like Garfield, kissed the Holy Book which was given to him by his mother. It was a small volume, bound in red leather, and was presented to him many years before. The book is now in the possession of Mr. Cleveland's married sister at Toledo, O. The Bible upon which he took the oath in 1893, eight years later when he became president the second time, was one presented by his beautiful wife, and she became its possessor.

When Benjamin Harrison was made president March 4, 1889, the Bible used was one that his wife had given him on the day of their marriage in Oxford, O., where President Harrison spent his school days. The Harrison Bible is owned by Mrs. James R. McKee, the daughter of ex-President Harrison.

President McKinley used a Bible that had been presented to him by the negro bishops of the country. It was the biggest Bible ever seen at the clerk's office, and Clerk McKinley in relating the incident said: "The day before the inauguration one of the bishops called at my office with the Bible. It was a huge affair of the type known as family Bibles. It rested in an ornate box lined with purple velvet and ornamented with gold. The box was fastened by lock and key. When I realized that it would be my lot to carry that huge Bible from the senate chamber clear out to the front of the capitol my knees grew weak and I could not refrain from asking the bishop jokingly where the wheel barrow was that should go with it."

The invariable custom is that on the day following the inauguration the clerk of the court takes the Bible to the White House and presents it to the first lady of the land as a keepsake.—Exchange.

Re-enforced Concrete.

The ark in which Moses was placed in the wilderness, we are told in the second chapter of Exodus, was an ark of bulrushes daubed with slime and with pitch. This is probably the first recorded instance of a re-enforced concrete structure.

GENUINE TURTLE SOUP

That and Other Delicacies Served to Rotarians Monday—Plan Trip up Soo Line

These turtles are from our own river, The porker was raised by us, But cut down his youth by a flivver. Eat hearty, dear sirs, you'll come to no harm, The potatoes and beans were both grown on our farm. The water is drawn from our springs near the hill, And last, but not least, the table cloth neat Was made in our mill.

Joseph H. Miller, the poet laureate of the Whiting-Plover Paper Co., penned the foregoing verse on the occasion of the visit of the Stevens Point Rotary club to Whiting Monday, when they were guests of Manager E. A. Oberweiser at luncheon at the company bungalow.

Frank Shemanski, as chef, was assisted by Earl Wilson, Robert Grade, Adelbert Schierl and Arthur Duggan in preparing and serving the following menu at 12:30:

- Radishes      Queen Olives

Turtle Bouillon      Wheat Bread

Rye Bread      Wafers

Roast Pork      Mashed Potatoes

Baked Beans      Brown Gravy

Watermelon      Coffee

Cigars

A long table was set on the roomy porch overlooking the Wisconsin, but the agility of the waiters and the tempting quality of the spread, combined with good healthy appetites, detracted from the scenery. As the poem suggests, the table cloth was of paper made at the mill, International bond, and the menu and poem were typewritten on folders used in advertising the company's product. Sparkling water, fresh from the company's wonderful spring system, was served.

After the meal the entire crowd, numbering 28, was taken on a tour through the mill, where they saw the various processes in the making of paper from the rags and pulp to the finished product. The left dry department, where a mile of paper is looped from moving poles at high temperature, at one time, to dry, was a particularly interesting place, as was also the machine room. At the conclusion of the tour the guests were escorted to the office, where each was presented with a six pound package of International bond paper.

During the meeting it was announced that the entertainment committee had made arrangements with Superintendent C. E. Urbahn of the Soo line for a trip to Stone Lake, on the Superior branch of the Soo, for a day's outing. The members will leave here, according to present plans on Saturday night, July 28, and will return the next night. They will have the private car of Mr. Urbahn for their headquarters and a chef from the main line dining service in charge of the culinary department. Practically all of the members will make the trip, on which the car will be hauled by passenger trains Nos. 17 and 18.

Earth Roads Need Attention.

Good earth roads can be constructed at a very low cost. However, they require constant maintenance, which may be expensive where the travel is heavy. A well built and properly maintained earth road will serve some sections as well as the most expensive types of hard surfaced roads will serve other sections. Where this fact is realized more attention will be paid to earth roads, and the money spent on them will not be regarded as lost. It is neglect which makes earth roads bad and requires $2 to be spent where $1 invested earlier would have done the work. Every township should arrange for a patrol system of maintenance or its equivalent.

The loveliest girl at a party belongs to the mother of each girl there.

TO CHASE U BOATS

It is to Chase U Boat Mountain Property Existing Earth Roads.

The great road problem, particularly that of the building or road district, is a matter of maintenance properly the existing earth roads, according to B. H. Phipps, maintenance engineer of the Illinois highway department. In view of the tremendous amount of earth road work to be done and of money to be spent for it, every effort should be directed along lines leading to the best results. If the grades, cross section and drainage of earth roads are properly established they will not need alteration when the roadways are provided with a more durable wearing surface at a later date. Very few roads receive enough time and money to be put in first class condition. Most of the money is spent in an endeavor to maintain earth roads that are not in a suitable condition for maintenance. Many earth roads are worse after improper working than they were before it, for a large part of the best soil in them is exposed so that the first heavy rain washes it away.

The main work to be done to obtain efficient earth roads is to drain them well and then to maintain them. There is no road material so easily affected by improper drainage as earth. When dry it will carry the heaviest loads imposed by traffic, but when thoroughly saturated with water it will not support the lightest load. Hence it is necessary to utilize all methods of keeping the earth road dry. This can best be done by draining away the underground water and preventing surface water from standing on the road.

All surface water is removed by giving to the road grades and cross sections which will afford the necessary outlet to the natural water courses. The grade line should provide for cutting down the hills and filling the hollows, so there will be a roadbed which will not require change for further improvement. Special attention should be paid to provide side ditches, which will remove all surface water rapidly. Side ditches on long, steep grades should be protected against serious erosion by riprap, transverse timbers or other beams. Culverts and bridges should be of ample size and be built as permanent structures. Drain tile should be laid to carry off underground water. Side ditches which are kept clean and have sufficient slope to lead the water away are usually preferable to tile drainage, but the latter is necessary in some places.

Reputation is precious, but character is priceless.

FASTER THAN A SUBMARINE.

Larger Than Type Constructed For British Navy, Which Were From Twenty-five to Eighty Feet in Length and Powered For Nineteen to Twenty Knots.

New York.—Four up to date 110 foot submarine chasers are being built at Bristol, R. I., to protect New York and adjacent territory, according to announcement at headquarters of the naval reserve force for the Third district. The entire cost of construction, equipment and ordnance is being met by A. I. du Pont, Commodore B. M. Tod, Payne Whitney and Harold Vanderbilt.

Each of the boats will be of fifteen feet beam with steel hull and bulkheads and fitted with oil fuel engines. Their speed will be twenty-five miles an hour, higher than any submarine can make. Each crew will consist of nineteen men.

By request of the navy department the size and character of guns that will be mounted are withheld from publication.

Decision by the four men that they would build and give to the government the four boats was reached after naval experts told them the absolute need for specially constructed vessels for the mosquito fleet if any guns other than one pounders are to be used. Mr. du Pont's boat will be ready in July, the others in August at the latest, it was said. All can be used as pleasure craft also.

The four boats will be somewhat similar to submarine chasers ordered for the regular force of the American navy, and details of their construction have been approved by naval officers. They will be larger than the type constructed for the British navy, which were from seventy-five to eighty feet in length and powered for nineteen to twenty knots. Five hundred and fifty of these boats were turned out in 1850 days.

The marine division of the Home Defense league received from Frederick D. Underwood, president of the Erie Railroad company, his yacht Alice. It is 110 feet long, twenty-two feet beam and of good speed. Three one pounder rapid fire guns can be mounted on the decks. It is planned to make her the flagship of a fleet of forty vessels of the league. Harry T. Peterson, who is in charge of recruiting for the marine division, intimated that Mr. Underwood would be made commodore. He holds a master's license and is very familiar with the waters about Greater New York.

The Old Toll Roads.

Good roads were first maintained in the east and especially in Pennsylvania by means of the toll roads, which were separated from the regular roads by means of tollgates, or stations.

To travel on these improved highways a charge was made for all sorts of conveyances. With the coming of the motorcar the fee for machines was made so high that in a few years hundreds of miles of good roads were built and maintained in excellent condition.

There are a few of these roads still in existence where a toll is charged by the Maryland, Delaware and Pennsylvania section. Most of these, however, have been eliminated on account of the state highway appropriation, and it is expected with the new federal appropriation of $85,000,000 these tollgates will be a relic of the past.
